Admiral B. R. Inman, USN
Deputy Director of Central Intelligence
1724 "F" Street NW
Washington, DC

Dear Admiral Inman:

Please accept my sincere expression of thanks for the fine job done by the Information Science Center staff in the conduct of the Executive Decision Analysis Seminar at one of your sites between 21 and 25 September. Reports reaching me leave no doubt that the seminar was exemplary for its planning and execution. Our students learned a great deal, discovered new tools to aid in decision making, and, most important, found themselves provoked into thinking about problem solving in new ways. [redacted] who conducted the seminar so superbly, deserve a special vote of thanks. The support from site personnel, quiet and unobtrusive, was uniformly excellent.

Let me add, too, that I am personally grateful to you for taking time to meet with the students and share your views. In my experience, sessions with the top people in our trade add more to the learning of our young executives than any other type of training. All of the students join me in a deeply felt thank you.

Sincerely,

[redacted]

Director, NSA/Chief, CSS
